A FEW SIMPLE SUGGESTIONS ABOUT ORDERING

IN SENDING parcels to us by mail always have them registered, for which an additional five cents is charged. This ensures safe delivery.

HOW TO ORDER.—Fill out the order form to be found at the back of catalogue, simply stating page, number, name and price of article. Orders written on our order forms aid in the quick despatch of orders, especially during Christmas season. To prevent delay all communications should be addressed to the firm. All correspondence not relating to the order and all requests for information should be written on a separate sheet.

Should any irregularity or cause of complaint arise, customers are requested to communicate by letter addressed to Mr. J. E. Birks, of Henry Birks & Sons, Limited, Montreal.

MONEY MAY BE SENT SAFELY by express order, registered letter, post-office order, Canadian postal notes or marked cheque. Never enclose cash in a letter without registering it. All cheques must be made payable at par in the city from whence the goods are to be shipped.

GIFTS TO DIFFERENT ADDRESSES.—Where goods are to be sent to different addresses, a separate order sheet should be used for each address, filling in the name and address to whom the articles are to be sent, at the top of the order form, and at the foot the name of the party ordering the goods. In making out separate order sheets for each address it avoids the delay in our office, here, where it is necessary to re-enter them in such cases where two or three addresses are given. Always sign your own name at the foot of the order form. In many cases, time and expense may be saved by sending the firm the address and any cards you wish enclosed, and they will forward the articles prepaid, to the parties for whom they are intended. Such orders will receive their most careful and prompt attention.

SELECTIONS SENT ON APPROVAL.—Except during the fortnight preceding Christmas, during which time only single articles can be spared from stock, the firm will be pleased to send, at their own risk, on approval, without any obligation to purchase, selections from their stock to such intending purchasers as may be known to them. Time may often be saved by mentioning the limits of price. Those unknown to the firm for credit desiring selections, will often save delay by enclosing references either from a local bank or responsible business house, or otherwise giving a Montreal, Winnipeg or Vancouver reference.

By their own system of insurance, they send selections of jewellery to any part of the Dominion, at no risk to the purchaser.

Requests for selections have the personal attention of a member of the firm.

ASSUME ALL RISKS ON ORDERS.—Should any article fail to please, the firm willingly refund the purchase price in full upon its return within one fortnight. They of course cannot exchange goods made to order or engraved, nor refund money for them.

WEDDING GIFTS FOR DELIVERY IN THE UNITED STATES.—

In addition to the few articles illustrated, the firm can duplicate through their United States agents, free of duty, an assortment of very attractive articles suitable as Wedding Gifts. A list will be sent upon request.

CASH ORDERS.—For the convenience of those customers with orders, goods illustrated in the catalogue are listed with deducted and are therefore net. No further discount allowed.

WHEN GOODS ARE CHARGED.—For those who have accounts we charge all goods at our store prices, which are 10% of those quoted in the catalogue. These accounts when paid are subject to 10% discount. When this is deducted from the prices will be found to equal the catalogue quotations.

EXCHANGES.—In returning goods for exchange, parcels should be sent with sender's name and address on the wrapper. Then send a giving contents and full information. Never send a parcel post without registering it, for which the Post Office charges a receipt is then furnished and ensures safe delivery not undertake to accept for exchange or otherwise any goods from date of purchase. PRECIOUS STONES

Forty years' experience, added to the great buying powers of a business covering the whole country, places the firm in a unique position in the gem markets of the world.

So large has the volume of its purchases become, that now, besides the regular visits of its experts from Canada, a resident buyer is kept in Amsterdam, one whose long connection with the Diamond Syndicate peculiarly fits him to stand with his finger ever on the pulse of the world's gem markets, and, with the firm's financial power behind him, to take advantage of every exceptional offering that comes into the market.

This ability of the firm to pay cash, coupled with the volume of its orders—amongst the largest taken to Europe from any country,—means eager competition between the cutters and great price advantages, of which their customers get the benefit.

While lack of space precludes extended reference, some interesting facts in connection with the more important gems will be found below.

THE DIAMOND

Of all the precious stones, the Diamond is supreme, not alone for its inherent qualities, but for the fascination those qualities give it for all people. As a jewel, brilliancy is most desired, and lack of this may arise from impurity of colour, imperfections, or poor cutting.

The cutting of a Diamond is of great importance, as, while it is, of course, impossible to cut a gem-stone from a naturally off-colour or imperfect crystal, the finest natural crystals may be completely ruined by poor cutting.

The cost of cutting to ideal proportions is great, as from crystals of equal size, a finished stone weighing fifty per cent. more may frequently be obtained if the ideal is sacrificed.

Looked at as an investment, it is the gem-stone which pays, as the output is comparatively small, and the number of those who appreciate them is constantly increasing. The tendency is ever upwards, and in forty years, regardless of financial crises, there has not been even a temporary drop in price. The Diamond is the only article which, though distinctly a luxury, may yet be looked upon as a good investment.

Among the ancients the Diamond symbolized Purity, Preserving Peace and Preventing Storms.

THE EMERALD

In choosing an Emerald colour is the prime requisite, and this should be a deep grass-green. Flaws which do not destroy the brilliancy or colour are not considered of importance, as, while other fancy stones of the more precious varieties are seldom perfect, the Emerald is never so—a flawless stone of fine colour, except in minute sizes, being absolutely unknown.

The mines from which the finest Emeralds now come are situated amongst the wild passes of the Andes, in the Republic of Colombia.

Peru, when first discovered by the Spaniards, held many beautiful stones in its temples, and these fell into the hands of the conquerors. As much as two hundred weight is said to have been carried to Spain in one ship in 1587.

The Emerald symbolizes Immortality, Incorruptibility.

THE RUBY

Almost from the dawn of history the Oriental Ruby has represented the quintessence of all gems, one old writer claiming that a really fine stone could illuminate a dark room as brilliantly as the sun.

Burmah has long been looked upon as the chief source for the finest gems, the mines there having been worked for probably five hundred years, but Siam and Ceylon also supply many beautiful stones. Although many are found, few are of good colour and the majority are very minute in size.

Colour is the first consideration, and this should be a red—full, rich and clean. The Ruby is rarely found without some admixture of black or purple, and is valued as it is free from these faults.

The Ruby symbolizes Charity, Dignity, Divine Power.

THE SAPPHIRE

The Sapphire is twin sister to the Oriental Ruby, both being corundum, and in hardness ranking next to the Diamond.

The term is applied by mineralogists to corundums of all colours, but by jewellers is confined to the blue varieties, the others being designated as "Fancy Sapphires." The stone is found in many shades of blue, but "cornflower" is looked upon as the gem colour.

The principal Sapphire-yielding localities are Siam, Burmah, Cashmere and Ceylon, and of these Siam yields most of the finest gems.

The Sapphire symbolizes Constancy, Truth, Virtue.

THE PEARL

While not a mineral but the production of a shellfish, the Pearl ranks among the most valuable of precious stones.

Latest researches show that a parasite or foreign substance in the shell is, in self-defence, coated with layers of nacre by the oyster. When the intruder happens to have lodged in such a position that it may be revolved, while the coating process is going on, a round pearl is the result. Usually, however, the position taken prevents this, and a button or irregular-shaped baroque is formed. The proportion of round Pearls found is a very small fraction.

A gem Pearl should be round, with a lustrous skin free from blisters and blemishes, and white or cream in colour.

Borneo, Australia, Torres Straits, Ceylon and the Persian Gulf are the chief localities.

Symbolized—Purity, Innocence.

THE OPAL

For variety and beauty of colour the Precious or Noble Opal is without a peer. The infinite combinations of colour do not come from any chemical constituents, but are due to structural peculiarities which deflect the light rays.

Hungary used to be the chief source of supply of the Noble Opal, but now Australia has practically control. The Common Opal of the Western States and the Fire Opal of Mexico and Honduras have little value, as the colours are less fiery and quickly fade.

Innumerable superstitions attach to the Opal. By the ancients, who called it "Paiaderos," or "Child Beautiful as Love," it was thought to bestow every possible good; then, by a freak of fashion, due largely to Sir Walter Scott's "Anne of Gherstein," it was long looked upon as unlucky; while now the pendulum is swinging the other way, and the Opal is again looked upon as a lucky stone.

Symbolized—Hope, Innocence, Purity.

THE TURQUOISE

Although not transparent, the beautiful robin's-egg blue colour of the Turquoise, which combines most effectively with Diamonds and Pearls, and the fact that it is considered peculiarly suited to blond complexions, make it a favourite jewel.

The chief sources of supply are Persia, New Mexico and Arizona.

The Turquoise symbolized—Prosperity, "Soul-cheer"

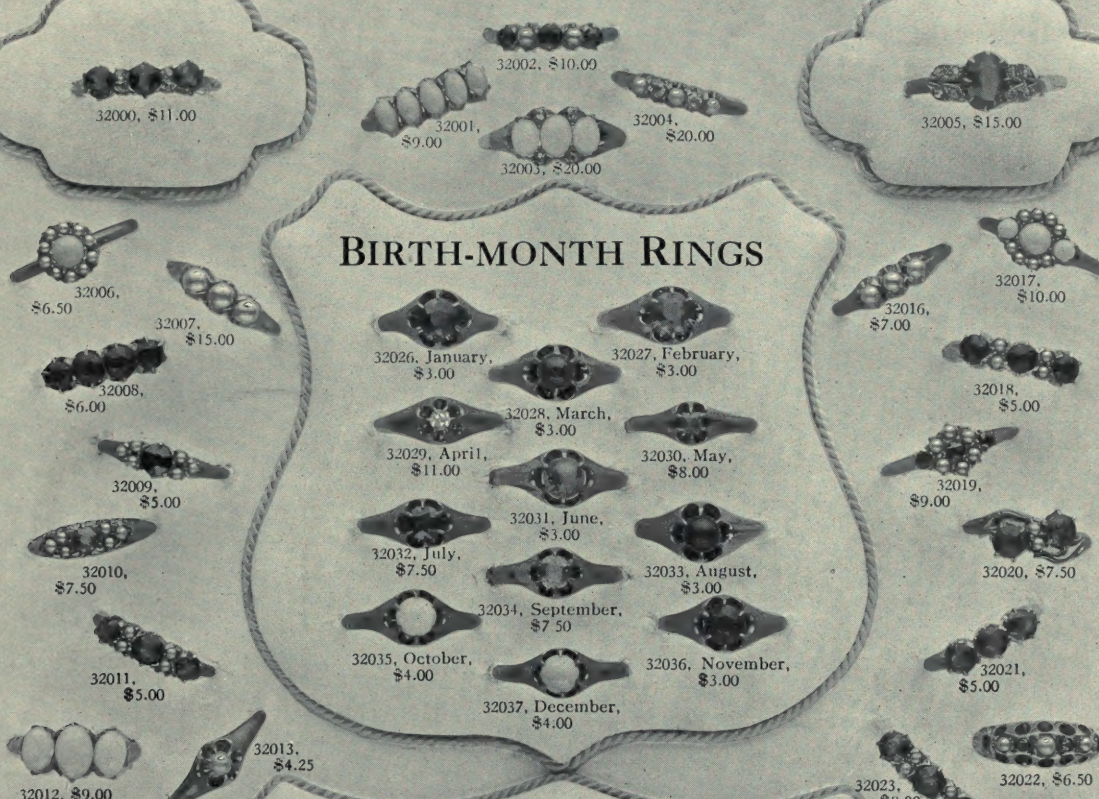

THE AMETHYST

This term is applied to all the violet and purple quartz crystals which are found in nearly all parts of the world. The really fine stones, however, distinguished by a deep royal purple, come chiefly from Brazil, Uruguay and Siberia.

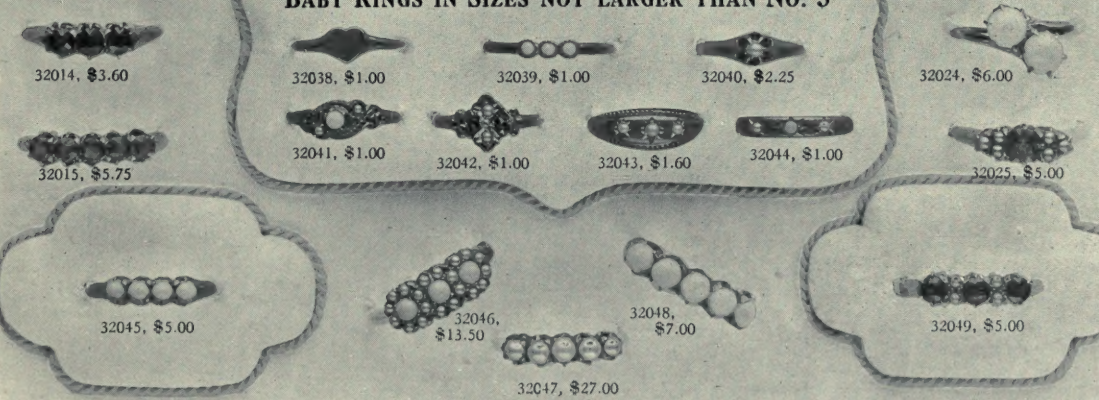

It is a steady favourite among the semi-precious stones, and mounts up most effectively.

The Amethyst symbolized—"Deep and Pure Love," and "A Gladsome Heart."

Amongst the leaders of fashion in Europe Plaque-Pendants and Sautoirs are being worn almost exclusively, and in the coming season they will certainly be the predominating styles in the finer Diamond Ornaments. The Plaque is often worn hanging from a slender Platinum Chain which has Diamonds or Enamelled Ornaments strung at regular intervals, but perhaps more frequently it is worn in combination with the broader Sautoir, as shown in illustration No. 9935. The Sautoir is a necklet about twenty inches long, or midway between the length of the ordinary necklet and the length of the lorgnette chain, and which therefore allows the Ornament to hang much lower than with the regular necklet. Besides being en règle with the Plaque-Pendants, it is much used with the so-called Sautoir Watches and Lockets, which have so taken London and Paris by storm with their dainty combinations of Enamels and Diamond Lace Work. This Diamond and Platinum Lace Work, or "Jewels of Lace," as it is called in Paris, is another distinctive departure in the season's artistic productions. Numbers 9132, 9933, 9934 and 9937 shown above illustrate the style of this work which with its dainty, delicate tracery appeals peculiarly to people of refinement. Besides the Pendants, Bar Pins, ranging in length from two and a half inches to six inches long are an important feature in this attractive work, and they certainly make most effective pieces of adornment, quite different in style from anything even the most elaborate jewel box is likely to contain. The articles shown above are illustrated merely as suggestions, as they represent but a small part of the collection of these jewels carried in the various establishments of the firm, which gladly submits designs and prices on application. In writing for these, time may often be saved by giving an idea of the amount to be expended. Except during the fortnight preceding Christmas, during which time only single articles can be spared from stock, the firm will be pleased to send selections of jewellery on approval to such intending purchasers as may be known to them, requests of this nature having the personal attention of a member of the firm.

PRICES OF PIECES ON THIS PLATE WILL BE FURNISHED ON APPLICATION.

FINE 14-CARAT GOLD JEWELLERY

For Gentlemen's wear the "Tuxedo" watch chain is the ruling fashion in London and Paris at the present time. It is a small fine Gold or Platinum Chain, of sufficient length to hang gracefully across the waistcoat. It is made in various ways: one may be noted in platinum with whole pearls at intervals, another in gold with platinum bars, while another of platinum with delicate enamel ornaments at intervals. We show here two styles at moderate cost that will be found very attractive gifts for a gentleman. Other styles varying in price, from $15.00 to $150.00, will be found on display at our various establishments. The firm will be pleased to send selections to customers at a distance, known to them.

TWELVE-SIZE WATCH

BIRKS' WATCH MOVEMENTS

"OBSERVATION"

Once in a generation Switzerland seems to produce a watchmaker who in his genius stands absolutely alone. Our "Observation" movement, the gem of our collection, is made for us by such a man, one whose product, though little known to the public in general, is by experts acknowledged to be the finest in the world. With every movement individualized, and going through months of adjustment before being passed, the wearer of an "Observation" movement owns the finest practical timepiece in the world.

"CENTURY"

One that stands unique in all the qualities that go to make a watch of extreme accuracy and endurance. Adjusted in all positions to isochronism, and to temperature it maintains its beautiful precision amid all climatic variations. Being unaffected by vibrations it is equally dependable in counting room or machine shop, in drawing room or on horseback. With 21 ruby jewels, beautifully finished yet strong, it is our highest regular grade and is a watch that should make life's whole journey with you.

"DOWNING STREET"

A watch with a record—Of all the hundreds of "Downing Street" movements we have placed throughout Canada for use under every kind of trying conditions we have yet to hear of the first failure. It has 19 jewels, is of solid nickel, highly finished and adjusted to run correctly in any position and under most extreme changes in temperature.

"GREENWICH"

This movement is the one chosen for our now famous "Banker's Watch"; itself a sufficient recommendation. A beautifully finished adjusted movement containing 17 jewels, patent regulator, etc.

"CATHCART"

The value of this, our medium-priced movement, has been emphasized many times by words of satisfaction from customers. It is also a highly finished nickel movement carrying 16 ruby jewels and calculated to serve its owner a lifetime. We specially recommend it for its great strength and accuracy of performance.

"SERVICE"

To provide a movement at a low price and still maintain our high quality standard has been the aim attained in this the lowest priced of our special grade movements. Expert care has been exercised in the assembling of its parts. It is of solid nickel, well finished, full jewelled (15 jewels), and contains compensated balance, Breguet hairspring, etc. It carries our broadest guarantee.

The dull grey martelé or hammered-silver case meets the demand of an aristocratic taste.

MODERNIZING OLD WATCHES

In many families are heirlooms in the shape of old watches highly valued for their associations and for the beauty of the cases, but no longer of use as timekeepers.

We make a specialty of modernizing these old key-wind watches by taking out entirely the old works and supplying a new stem wind "Birks" movement in their place. Retaining the old cases and dials (when the latter are gold) in their original state, except for the alteration to the winding stem.

We illustrate an old English key winder with gold dial, both before and after being changed into a modern stem winder.

The cost of these conversions varies from $20.00 to $50.00, according to the amount of work required in altering the case to fit the new movement, and to the grade of movement. Estimates will be submitted in every case when desired.

These watches when fitted with a "Birks" movement carry the same guarantee as a new "Birks" watch.

ABOUT OUR WATCH MOVEMENTS

The accuracy of our watch movements is due to conservative and careful introduction of mechanical improvements as they appear from time to time in the science of horology. Novel invention is at all times avoided. Our one aim has been to make each movement measure up to the highest practical standard of excellence in its own class.

"CLIVE"

In nothing does quality count for more than in a small watch. Though our "Clive" watch is but slightly larger than a twenty-five cent piece it has a record of never failing in hard service, and for this reason we have chosen it for use in our finest watch bracelets. Full jewelled (10 ligne).

"VERNON"

A movement identical with the "Clive" except for it being a shade larger. Full jewelled (11 ligne.)

"AGATON"

A movement made especially for us by the maker of our "Observation" watch. It represents the highest point skill and ingenuity have yet attained in a small watch (12 ligne.) While larger than the preceding, it is smaller than the regular O size or 13 ligne watches shown on this and preceding page.

"CANTERBURY"

A small watch of extreme quality and with the reputation of having never failed under the severe tests of actual service. It is jewelled at every frictional point with 18 ruby jewels, is adjusted to position, and has all the distinctiveness of the strictly "hand-made."

"OSBORNE"

One that stands unique for all the qualities that go to make a watch of extreme accuracy and endurance. It is our highest regular grade and is made expressly for us by a celebrated maker of chronographs and minute repeaters, whose output we control for Canada. The fact that this movement is made by this manufacturer is sufficient assurance to us that it is worthy of recommendation to our finest trade.

"WINDSOR"

The value of a watch movement increases with the number of jewels it contains. A "full jewelled" one is recognized as standard when it contains 15 jewels. Our "Windsor" movement contains 18 jewels. It is of solid nickel, most highly finished and adjusted so as to run correctly in any position and conform to most extreme changes in temperature, with the utmost uniformity.

"FAIRFAX"

The value of this our medium-priced movement has been emphasized many times by words of satisfaction from customers. It is also a highly-finished nickel movement, carrying 16 ruby jewels and calculated to serve its owner a lifetime. We specially recommend it for great strength and accuracy of performance.

"ST. JAMES"

To provide a movement at a low price and still maintain our high quality standard, has been the aim successfully attained in this the lowest priced of our special movements. Expert care has been exercised in the assembling of its parts. It is of solid nickel, well finished, full jewelled (15 jewels) and contains compensated balance, Breguet hairspring, etc. It carries our broadest guarantee.

The sale of the above watches is absolutely controlled by our stores in Canada. We occasionally hear of other dealers offering to duplicate "Birks' watches." This cannot be so.

Our gold cases are of solid 14-carat or 18-carat gold and of good substantial weight.

Our gold-filled cases are made of two sheets of 14-carat gold welded upon an inner metal. The bows, the part which receives most wear, are made of solid gold. We recommend them as preferable to a light solid gold case of which there are many on the market.

We engrave initials on all solid-gold, gold-filled cases and on cases of other charge. Inscriptions cost three cents per letter.

GUNMETAL WATCHES

- 55. Birks' "St. James" movement, $10.00
- 56. Birks' "Fairfax" movement . . 13.50
- 58. Birks' "Buckingham" movement, 17 jewels 17.00

The wrist is without question the most convenient place to carry a watch, but unfortunately most watches made for this purpose will not stand the severe usage. After testing many movements, through several years, we have selected two, our "Clive" and "Vernon," as particularly suited for this purpose. To attain the quality we demanded means a fairly high price, but the satisfaction customers receive fully justifies the added expense.

The movements are full-jewelled and beautifully finished. The quality in both is the same but the "Clive" which we use in our finest gold bracelets is slightly smaller than the "Vernon."

307. Fine Diamond Wrist Watch $200.00
"Marguerite" Bracelet, dial surrounded with fine diamonds set in platinum, "Clive" movement.

The "Marguerite" has proved to be the most satisfactory expanding bracelet ever produced. Each section is made of a group of four curved links, firmly riveted together, into which slides another group of three links all carefully ground and polished to an accurate fit. Inside these slides a hardened solid-gold spring which works with velvety smoothness. Every part being made of solid gold moisture cannot affect it.

305. Fine Gold Wrist Watch, $65.00
14-carat "Marguerite" Bracelet with Birks' "Vernon" movement.

310. Fine Gold Wrist Watch, $80.00
14-carat "Marguerite" Bracelet with Birks' "Clive" movement.

301. Fine Gold Wrist Watch, $50.00
14-carat "Countess" Bracelet with Birks' "Vernon" movement.

The "Countess" Bracelet is the result of efforts to bring out a really satisfactory article at a less price than the "Marguerite." While we consider the "Marguerite" without question the finest expanding bracelet ever produced, the "Countess" is certainly the peer of anything yet brought out at this price. Made in our own factory of solid 14-carat gold, with hardened solid-gold spiral springs, it has nothing to deteriorate and we are able to fully guarantee its wearing qualities.

315. Fine Gold Wrist Watch, $50.00
Solid 14-carat Gold Watch and Bracelet with Birks' fine "Vernon" movement.

This is a very fine chain bracelet to which we have added extra weight of gold without increasing the price.

308. Fine Gold Wrist Watch, $35.00
14-carat Gold Watch and Buckle on Leather Bracelet, with our fine "Vernon" movement.

131. Silver Wrist Watch $20.00
This watch has our fine "Vernon" movement, a finer grade than we have ever before used in a silver case.

128w. Leather Watch-bracelet with Silver Watch $13.00
This watch has our fine "St. James" movement.

25. Leather Watch-bracelet, without watch $1.00
Fits any open-face watch size of No. 126, page 33.

127. Silver Wrist Watch $15.00
This watch has our celebrated "St. James" movement which we supplied in leather bracelets to many of the Strathcona Horse for use in South Africa.

Although slightly larger than our other wrist watches it is very strong and admirably suited for either ladies' or gentlemen's use.

ARTISTIC SILVER JEWELLERY, SET WITH REAL AMETHYSTS

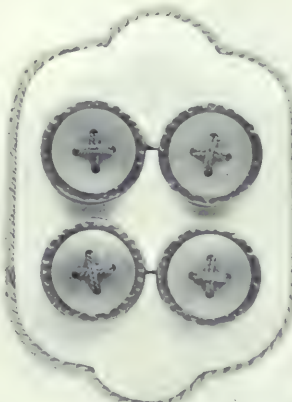

Silver holds a unique position in Jewellery. It is the only precious metal whose vogue ebbs and flows like the tide. Just now it is in popular favor. More than a quarter of a century has elapsed since it held the prominent place in adornment it does to-day. The pieces illustrated have been very carefully chosen from our European importations and are distinctive and effective in character. The cabochon amethysts are mottled, with clouds running through the stones, making a most artistic contrast with their silver settings.

PARISIAN IVORY

Parisian Ivory is an exquisite material perfectly adapted for toilet articles, closely resembling real ivory in appearance but surpassing it in beauty of finish and durability. We would particularly call attention to the quality of the glass in the mirrors and the bristles in the brushes, believing them to be superior to other lines. The mounting of our gold-finished letters adds much to the effectiveness of the article.

THE "OLD ENGLISH" PATTERN

Our "Old English" Spoons and Forks have that beautiful roundness to the handle seen only in the old hand-forged English silver. This is not attempted by any other manufacturer, and, while adding considerably to the expense of making this is fully justified by the more graceful appearance and the increased strength of the articles.

We have materially increased the weights of our spoons and forks in this pattern, having discontinued the heavy weight, and confining this design to extra heavy weight only.

We engrave one initial free of charge on all sterling-silver spoons and forks.

THE BEAD PATTERN

Simplicity of design and graceful outline are the characteristics of this pattern of silver spoons and forks. The bead is sufficient decoration to relieve severe plainness, and the whole effect suggests dignity and refinement.

We have materially increased the weights of our spoons and forks in this pattern and are confining this design to heavy and extra heavy weights only.

We engrave one initial free of charge on all sterling-silver spoons and forks.

THE SAXON.—This pattern has been manufactured to supply the demand for one moderately-priced. This does not mean that "quality" has been sacrificed in any way to obtain the price, but the design itself is such that it can be manufactured at much less cost than some others which require an exceptional weight of metal to bring out the depth of pattern. We unhesitatingly recommend the Saxon to those desiring a moderately-priced design, believing it will give the utmost satisfaction for all time.

HENRY BIRKS & SONS' SILVER-PLATED SPOONS AND FORKS

In buying silver-plated ware, the first consideration is the wearing quality. Our silver-plate is made in one quality only—the best.

The whole effect of our silver-plated ware is that of sterling silver. We manufacture our own plate, know its quality and appearance are the best and hold ourselves responsible for its wearing qualities.

It costs no more to the buyer than other makes.

We engrave one letter on each piece on this page, without charge, except the dinner and dessert knives.

FINEST HARD-METAL PLATED WARE

Made and guaranteed by Henry Birks & Sons, Limited. The difference between hard and soft-metal plated ware: Soft-metal ware, which is almost exclusively used by the best American makers, has for a basis varying qualities of Britannia metal or Pewter. The basis of our soft-metal goods is of the finest white Britannia metal. The basis of our hard-metal ware is composed of the finest quality of nickel silver, remarkably hard and ringing. The plating is equally heavy on both, but on account of the superior hardness of the nickel-silver blank, hard-metal will outwear the same article made of soft metal.

SUPERIOR QUALITY SILVER-PLATED WARE

Were less silver applied to the articles quoted on these pages, our prices would be lower accordingly. The appearance of the articles would be the same, but the wearing qualities would be sacrificed; time only will test the wearing qualities of silver-plated ware. A modern factory enables us to furnish a superior quality of plate at prices which compete with inferior goods. Articles quoted on these pages will be sent prepaid to any office of the Canadian, Canadian Northern, or Dominion Express Companies in Canada.
